THE CZAR IN SCOTLAND.

LORD ROSEBERY AND THE PRINCE OF WALES GREET HIM IN LEITH.

ENTHUSIASTIC CROWDS CHEER THE IMPERIAL GUESTS ON THEIR WAY TO BALMORAL-THEIR RECEPTION BY THE OUTEN-A

Leith, Scotland, Sept. 22.-The Russian imperial yacht Standart, with the Czar and Czarina on board, passed Bass Rock at So'clock this morning, moving slowly on account of the When she was reported as having passed Bass Rock many passenger boats, crowded with companied her to the harbor, where she arrived this afternoon. The Czar and Czarina, with their suites, were transferred from the Standart to a local steamer, which conveyed them to the jetty, where they landed and took carriages to the railway station for Balmoral. The route to the station was decorated to a moderate exthe imperial visitors. To-day was an ordinary autumn holiday in Edinburgh and Leith, and great crowds of people were early on the ground to see the Russian Emperor. The gathering was very orderly and the town remarkably

The Prince of Wales, the Duke of Connaught and Lord Rosebery arrived from Dalmeny Park, Lord Rosebery's seat in Linlithgowshire, and took carriages to the jetty, where they embarked on board a steamer and went out to the Standart to meet the Czar and Czarina. The Prince of Wales boarded the Standart and greeted the Russian Emperor and Empress, remaining on board the yacht for some time. Before the Czar and Czarina landed rain began falling, spoiling the effect of the scene of the beflagged warships in the harbor and the gayly uniformed regiments of troops which lined the route from the jetty to the station.

The Czar and Czarina and the Prince of Wales were received with much enthusiasm as they landed at the jetty, where the party entered carriages. Before going to the station, where the Queen's special train awaited them, the Czar and Czarine were driven to the Town Hall, where the local personages were introduced to the imperial pair. The Lord Provost of Edinburgh presented them with an address, welcoming the Czar and Czarina to Scotland and expressing hope that their visit might be an augury of good relations between the two great empires of Russia and Great Britain. The address further expressed hope that these good relations mights be continued and exterded in the interests of peace and humanity. No allusion was made in the address to any of the present events in Europe. The Czar and Czarina, with their suites; the Prince of Wales, Duke of Connaught, and M. de Staal, Russian Ambassador to Great Britain, left the hall at a end of the address, and were driven to the station, where they took the Queen's special train for Ballater, by the way of Dundee and Aberdeen.

MONEY CANNOT FIX PRICES.

THE ECONOMIC SECTION OF THE BRITISH ASSO-CIATION DISCUSSES THE CURRENCY QUESTION.

Liverpool, Sept. 22.—The economic section of the British Association to-day discussed the currency question. In the course of the discussion William Fowler declared that low prices were the cause of the contest between gold and silver, adding that prices affected money but that money did not affect prices. Bimetallism, he said, was trying to fix prices by law, but it was trying to accomplish an impossibility. Henry Higgs spoke in defence of bimetallism, but believed it should be established on an interna-tional basis.

GENERAL ROLOFF ON TRIAL.

TESTIMONY TO THE EFFECT THAT ARMS AND MEN WERE TAKEN ABOARD THE LAURADA AT SEA.

General Carlos Roloff, the arrested Cuban Secretary of War, was arraigned before United States Commissioner Alexander yesterday for examination on a charge of having aided and abetted a fili-bustering expedition, which is alleged to have been transported by the steamship Laurada, of which Edward Murphy was the captain. It was shown by the testimony of United States Customs of-ficials that the ship was cleared at Philadelphia for Wilmington, on August 3, and thence on August 5 for Port Antonio, Jamaica, returning to Wilmington on September 10.

James F. French, the British Collector of Port Antonio, who said he had come here at the re-quest of the Spanish Consul at that port, testified that the Laurada arrived there on August 25. He thought it strange that she should have occupied twenty days in making a six days' run. He was told by Captain Murphy that the vessel had sailed slowly, but had not stopped anywhere or disembarked any passengers on the way. Witness had found three Remington rifles conscaled between

Among the men who were taken on board, he said, was General Roloff, who gave orders while on board. General Roloff was accompanied by a man who was addressed as "Colonel," and who closely resembled Colonel Nunez. The men, arms, etc. were landed on Navassa. Island, near Cuba. General Roloff had given witness $16 to pay eight men who had helped to unload the arms, etc., at Navassa Island. ## THACHER'S LETTER.

COVETOUS OF DISHONOR. From The Boston Transcript.

From The Boston Transcript.

John Boyd Thacher announces that he is in favor of the Chicago nominee, but against the Chicago platform, that he is as much opposed to free coinage of silver now as he was in June. He takes the Buffalo nomination to hold the party together and in the interest of "regularity." Seldom have we seen a man so covetous of a barren dishonor as is Mr. Thacher.

HE PLEASES NEITHER FACTION. From The Providence Journal.

From The Providence Journal.

His willingness to accept the Gubernatorial nomination at Buffalo on a silver platform has alienated the gold Democrats of New-York State, and now his rejection of that platform will throw a wet blanket on the enthusiasm of the more rabid silver men.

IT WILL INJURE HIM. From The Utica Press.

Mr. Thacher's letter, instead of helping, will immensely hinder him and will do him infinitely more harm than good. No man can ride two horses in this campaign, least of all a Gubernatorial candidate. BAIT FOR THE GOLD MEN.

From The Buffalo News. It is a bait to the gold men. It is thrown out with the hope that they will indorse Mr. Thacher. They seem to have no disposition to do so, however.

REPUBLICAN AMMUNITION.

From The Baltimore American.

Whoever is responsible for the bringing out of the letter, it is clear that the Republicans could not have made any ammunition to do more effective execution than Mr. Thacher has furnished.

THACHER AND HOKE.

A more despicable exhibition of political folly was never known, unless it be in the case of Brother Hoke Smith, who fought for gold before the convention and turned tail and ran into the silver camp after the convention.

THE ARREST OF J. N. WOLFSON.

HIS RETURN TO NEW-ORLEANS' FROM THIS CITY - STATEMENTS BY HIS BROTHER-IN-LAW.

Joseph N. Wolfson, who, according to dispatches from New-Orleans, has been arrested in that city for being implicated in the robbery of the Union Bank, was recently in New-York, a guest of his brother-in-law, Mr. Dinkelspiel, at the Hotel Majestic. Mr. and Mrs. Dinkelspiel, whose home is in England, had been on a visit to this country, making their last stay in this city before returning to England. Mrs. Dinkelspiel is a sister of Mr. Wolfson. Rumors came from New-Orleans that Wolfson's name had been connected with the bank scandais of that city, and that there was a possibility that he might be placed under arrest while in this city. Last Friday a Tribune reporter called at the Majestic for the purpose of getting Mr. Wolfson's statement regarding the accusa-tions made against him. Mr. Wolfson was no in, but Mr. Dinkelspiel told the reporter that his brother-in-law had heard for the first time that day that suspicion had fallen upon him as being connected with the looting of the Union Bank, and that he had been completely astounded at the news. He branded the charges made against him as absolutely false. Mr. Dinkelspiel said that Mr. Wolfson had no connection with the bank save as a depositor. The fact that he had left New-Or leans just at this time, Mr. Dinkelspiel said, no doubt had given some color to the rumor that he had fled to escape justice. Mr. Dinkelspiel explained that the reason for Mr. Wolfson's coming North had been the serious illness of his wife, who had been the guest of Mrs. Dinkelspiel. Mrs. Wolfson's illness assumed such an alarming co that he (Mr. Dinkelspiel) telegraphed for her husband. The charge entered against Wolfson is that of aiding and abetting the robbery of the bank of $35,000 on March 16, 1805. It is said that the fraud was so skilfully covered up that at first it was overlooked by the examiner at work on the books. Irregularities in other directions furnished the clew to certain developments which led to the clew to certain developments which are to the arrest. With Wolfson's arrest, two of the five outside men alleged to have been concerned in the wrecking of the Union Bank have been secured. It was reported that the bank had been looted of $60,000. Two clerks, Colomb and Leefe, together with five outside persons, were accused of being implicated in the robbers. Colomb committed suicide, and Leefe is now in jail awaiting examination.

Mr. Dinkelspiel last Saturday said that Mr. Wolfson would return at once to New-Orleans and "face the music," as he was sure that he could clear away the suspicion which hung around him. Mr. Dinkelspiel and his wife were to sail the next morning for Europe, and there was some thought entertained that Mr. Wolfson might also be going to leave this country. There is no doubt that he was pretty closely watched. As things turned out, he returned as he said he would, and was at once placed under arrest.

POLICY-HOLDERS HELD LIABLE.

AN UNEXPECTED CALL ON MEMBERS OF THE UNITED STATES MUTUAL ACCIDENT ASSOCIATION.

The United States Mutual Accident Association this city went into the hands of a receiver in May, 1885, for the benefit of its members, who numbered then 129,105, having a debt of $465,000. The charter of the organization, it is alleged, provided that all beneficiaries were liable pro rata for its liabilities and for its maintenance. It is said that only a few of the policy-holders knew of the provision, and they were surprised when they received the following notice from Henry Winthrop Gray, receiver of the assecta-

A quiet home wedding took place at a day at the country seat in Ramsey's, N. J., of J. O. Donner, whose daughter, Miss Marie Elizabeth Donner, was married to Rudolph R. Franksen, Vice-Consul at the German Embassy in St. Petersburg. The Rev. Dr. Brockholst Morgan performed the ceremony. The bride wore a costume of white lvory duchesse satin, with diamond ornaments and orange duchesse sain, who are the Donner, Corinne and blossoms. The Misses lise Donner, Corinne and Kathryn Baldwin, eight-year-old maidens, acted as maids of honor. Spencer S. Baldwin was best man. The wedding breakfast was served by Sherry, on the verandah, while a Hungarian band discoursed music. A unique feature of the wedding was the christening of Miss Kathryn Baldwin, the bride and bridegroom acting as sponsors. The wedding and bridegroom acting as sponsors. The weathing was the occasion of great festivity at the country seat, the tenants being invited to celebrate the martiage at a grand ball in the great homestead barn, which had been decorated lavishly for the occasion. Grotesque jack-o'-lanterns made with candles fixed in squash and pumpkin gourds afforded light. The neighbors congregated to do honor to the pair, and Mr. and Mrs. Donner led the grand march.

WILL OF HENRY LUHRS.

The will of Henry Luhrs, who died at Liberty, Sullivan County, on September 13, was filed for probate in this city yesterday. Mr. Luhrs left an estate valued at about $21,500, according to the affi-davit accompanying the petition for probate. His executors are directed to pay his debts as soon as sufficient money can be realized from the personal estate. He leaves to his widow, Meta, his household furniture, books and articles of personal use. His gold watch and chain are given to such one of his ons as shall first attain the age of twenty-one years. The remainder of the estate is left in trust, one-half of the income to go to the widow, and the one-half of the income to go to the widow, and the remaining half to be devoted to the education and maintenance of his chi'dren, until they reach the age of twenty-one years, when the income from their half of the estate will be given to them absolutely. At the death of Mrs. Luhrs, the property will be divided among the children, Mr. Luhrs provides that if any of his sons wishes to enter business before he receives his share of the estate, sufficient money may be advanced to him, providing the amount shall not be more than one-half of the share to which he will be entitled at the death of his mother

OBITUARY.

KATHARINA KLAFSKY. Hamburg, Sept. 22.-Frau Katharina Klafsky-Lohse, the well-known prima-donna, died in this city to-day. Her death was the result of a trephin-ing operation.

The death of Frau Klafsky, the unexpectedness of which will shock the many personal friends whom she made in America last season and who knew her as a woman of apparently unconquerable physical force, will also seriously embarrass Mr. or thereabouts that he concluded arrangements with her to alternate with Mme. Lehmann the principal dramatic parts of the operas which

There were many for despite a certain rudeness in her style (not wholly out of place, be it said, in the characters she was wont to enact) she was a woman of rerkable artistic temperament and extraordinary gifts Limits to her enthusiasm and devotion to her art there seemed to be none, and her severest critic will be prompt to acknowledge that her death is a distinct loss to the German lyrig stage.

Pollini is manager. When the offer of an engagement for America came to her she consulted with Herr Pollini, who graciously consented to give her leave of absence if she would pay him one-half, her carnings. This she refused to agree to, and fearing that he would invoke the aid of the courts to prevent her coming to New-York, she took French leave of Germany more than two months before she was needed here. Her success here was an indubitable one, but she did not like the idea of severing her artistic relations with Germany, and so negotiations looking to a settlement with her manager were opened before she returned to Hamburg. How the matter was compromised has not yet been divulged.

Katharina Klafsky was a Hungarian by birth and had just turned forty-one years of age, having been maker with musical predilections. Her mother died when the daughter was in her sirthood, and the remarriage of her father sent her into the world to take care of herself. She went to Vienna, where the discovery was made that she had a promising voice. At the solicitation of the elder Hellmesberger, Mme. Marchesi, at the time principal professor of singing at the Vienna Conservatory, gave her lessons gratis. She began her public career in Salzburg, the birthplace of Mozart, in 18%, but a year later married a merchant and withdrew into married life, taking up her domicile in Leipsic. Subsequently she became a member of Angelo Neumann's peripatetic Wagner company, of which Anton Seidi was conductor, and on the death of Fran Reicher-Kindermann, the dramatic singer of that commany, she succeeded to the dramatic parts. A year after Mr. Seidi left Bremen (whither she had gone with him when he became conductor of the Staditheater of that city) to come to New-York, Fran Klafsky went to Hamburg, where she has since been. Her second husband was Franz Greve, barytone of the Hamburg opera and Mr. Damrosch's assistant last season.

CALLIAS BEY.

Washingt. Sept. 22.—A private telegram re-ceived here by United States Treasurer Morgan says that Callias Bey, husband of P. T. Barnum's widow, died yesterday at Constantinople.

Demitri Callias Bey was forty-eight years old at the time of his death. He was the owner of large estates and olive-oil factories in the island of Mitylene, just at the entrance to the Dardanelles was decorated by the Sultan with the Order of Osmanie. Like his bride, who was the widow of Phineas T. Barnum, the famous showman, Mr. Callias was an extensive traveller. They met while Mrs. Barnum was taking a trip through Egypt and Palestine, and she was afterward entertained by him at his home in Mitylene. A mutual affection sprang up, and they became engaged. The wedding took place on August 7, 1895, at the Greek Chapel of the Holy Trinity, in this city. The ceremony was performed with all the ritual of the Greek Church by Father Agathodoros Papageorgopoulos, after a civil ceremony had been held in a lawyer's office by a member of the Board of Alderman. The engagement between Mr. Callias and Mrs. Baroum existed for several years. The wedding had been arranged to take place a year before it did, but was put off. Mrs. Callias was forty-six years old at the time of her marriage. She was many years younger than her first husband. Mr. Callias was a Greek, in the service of the Turkish Government.

WILLIAM LUCAS BOSTWICK.

Ithaca, N. Y., Sept. 22.-William Lucas Bostwick died at his home in this city to-night from pa-ralysis, after nearly two years of suffering. Born at Enfield, Tompkins County, March 13, 1837, he had always lived in the county, and was interested in its politics and those of the State for many years. He began his education at the old Ithaca Academy, and, entering Hamilton College, was graduated from there in 1858, with the degree of M. A. At twenty-one years of age he represented his town of Enfield in the Board of Supervisors. He married in 1861, and moved to Ithaca in 1863.

Mr. Bostwick represented Tompkins County in the Assembly in 1874, and was largely instrumental n the passage of the first compulsory education in the passage of the first compalisory education laws. In 1876 the Legislature elected him a Regent of the University, and at his death he was the oldest member but one in point of service. From 1889 to 1883 he was on the Board of Canal Appraisers by appointment of Governor Cornell. During President Harrison's Administration he was cashler of the New-York Custom House, under Collector Erhardt, from 1889 to 1885, when on account of ill-health he resigned. In earlier life he was active in commercial enterprises in Ithaca, and was identified with many public movements for the city's good. He leaves a widow and four children.

P. P. GILLEN, M. P.

Adelaide, South Australia, Sept. 22.-The Hon. P. P. Gillen, M. P., Commissioner of Crown Lands, died suddenly to-day from heart disease while at-tending a meeting of the Cabinet.

HORATIO N. BEACH.

Brockport, N. Y., Sept. 22.-Horatio N. Beach, of the oldest and most prominent residents of the village, died this morning. He was Editor and years. He was one of the Board of Managers of the State Industrial School. He was a prominent Republican, and during President Arthur's Administration was a United States Consul in Venezuela, and later in the term was appointed Consul-General to Ecuador. He was seventy years of age.

CYRUS STRONG.

Binghamton, N. Y., Sept. 22-Cyrus Strong, an old resident, died at his home here yesterday, aged eighty-three years. He had been conspicuously conhamton for fifty years, but his interests were not confined to this city or State, he having extensive properties in Colorado and Florida. He was prom-inent in banking circles, and gave a large share of his fortune to charity.

SIR HENRY IRVING IN "CYMBELINE."

A MAGNIFICENTLY STAGED PERFORMANCE AT THE LYCEUM-THE AUDIENCE LARGE

London, Sept. 22.-"Cymbeline" was produced at he Lyceum Theatre to-night by Sir Henry Irving. The play was magnificently staged, and the dresses were superb. In the early parts there was some dragging, and here modification is needed. The critics in the foyer were of the opinion that the whole play was somewhat below the Lyceum standard. Nevertheless it was enthusiastically applauded by the enormous audience. Sir Henry Irving played the part of Iachimo, and Miss Ellea Terry that of Imogen. They were repeatedly called before the curtain.

PROFESSOR WHEELER LOYAL TO CORNELL.

HE DECLINES THE OFFER OF THE PRESIDENCY OF ROCHESTER UNIVERSITY.

Ide Wheeler, of Cornell University, has definitely announced his decision not to accept the presiwas elected last June. On his return from Europe, where he spent the last year, Dr. Wheeler was me versity of Rochester, and was urged to reconsider Cornell and his feeling of obligation to the University, especially for its generous conduct toward him Professor Wheeler had already finally decided to return to his work at Cornell. He has never considered the matter from the point of view of Rochester, which he considers one of the best of its class in the country. Cornellians will be glad to learn that Dr. Wheeler's loyalty to Cornell continues unabated. Dr. Wheeler has in preparation a life of Alexmarried to James Parrish Lee, a son of the late Dr.

Charles Carroll Lee, of this city. The marriage ceremony was performed in the drawing-room. School in the city by gathering together a few fordeeply interested in prosecuting the excivations at Corinth, which were began this spring and which have already resulted in the discovery of the centre of the ancient city, as located by means of the theatre. Funds are now needed to carry the exci-vations further on the large scale which they de-mand, and Professor Wheeler is expecting to say something about the project in a letter which will

"THE MESSIAH" SUNG IN WORCESTER. Worcester, Mass., Sept. 22.-The first concert of the thirty-ninth annual festival of the County Musical Association was given to-night in Mechanics' Hall. "The Messiah" was presented by a chorus of 500 voices, the festival orchestra of sixty instruments and the soloists. There was a arge audience. Carl Zerrahn directed the performance. The soloists were Mrs. Eleanore Mere dith, soprano; Mrs. Carl Aives, contraito; Wilham H. Rieger, tenor, and Carl E. Dufft, basso. This production of "The Messiah" was probably the best ever given Handel's masterplece in Worcester. The voices of the chorus were fresh and not worn by a week of service, and their work was sayby a week of service, and their work was sale-cessful beyond anticipation. Mrs. Alves appeared for the fifth time as a festival artist and renewed her successes. Mr. Rieger and Mr. Dufft, both favorites, were warmly welcomed, and Mrs. Mere-dith, the only newcomer, sang herself into favor, Mme. Nordica unexpectedly appeared at the after-moon rehearsal and gave the orchestra suggestions as to accompaniments for her Wagnerian solos. She was in excellent voice. At the morang re-hearsal "The Messiah" and "Eve" were taken up-

PARTY GIVEN FOR LORD RUSSELL

Newport, R. I., Sept. 22.-Henry White was to have given an elaborate lawn party this afternoon in honor of his guests, Lord and Lady Russell and Miss Rus sell. Rain prevented the outdoor entertainment, and it was held in the villa. Lord and Lady Russell at-tended a dinner given this evening by Perry Belmont in honor of the return of his brother. August Bel-mont, and Mrs. Belmont from abroad. Sir Frank and Lady Lockwood and Mr. and Mrs. Henry White were the other guests.

THE WEATHER REPORT.

YESTERDAY'S RECORD AND TO-DAY'S FORECAST. Washington, Sept. 22.—The barometer has risen rapidly in the central valleys and lake region, and fallen slowly on the Atlantic coast and rapidly in the Northwest; it is highest over the Upper Mississhpi Valley and lowest north of Dakota.
